EVIE B- 'INDIE IS NOT WHAT I DO. IT IS WHO I AM!'

Famous singer-song writer for the profound Indie pop genre Evie Bougourd has announced some shocking news to fans this week in a crazy turn of events...

Evie B has decided to stop her career in music stating that 'music is my life and my passion and that'll never leave.' Being one of the most incredible Indie pop singers of this century all of Evie's devoting fans will be stunned by the news, her last ever album will be dropped on the 1st January 2022, ready for a new year and a new gig which tickets for will be released later on in this magazine! Evie has been a singer-songwriter for 5 years and has produced some of 'the most amazing Indie pop music to exist'. She rose to fame age 15 through a hometown festival and recognition from that, following on from this she started to avidly live through music and start releasing albums, playing at big festivals and doing exclusive tours as well as meet and greets.

During her time as a singer she says she has found the meaning of fame, 'which is to help the less fortunate around you' therefore following on from her last gig and tour she will be donating 95% of the profit gained to 'wellbeing of women'. In the future Evie has said she'd love to pursue her music but from the privacy of her home and not a public stage, overall Evie says 'Indie is not just what I do, It's who I am'. Due to her incredible stardom she would like to continue promoting the Indie genre and to inspire up and coming artists and fans, Evie says she will do this through her social media pages, her remaining gigs and she might dedicate a song in her new album to her fans. All together Evie has said she's had an 'incredible experience' and that she is now onto her 'next adventure'. Evie B will appear next in boston for her next and last gig, which will be coming up very soon. To find tickets and more exclusive interviews from Evie herself this turn to page 26, in magazine.
