David Orobosa Omoregie known more anonymously as Dave, is a British rapper, singer, songwriter, pianist, record producer and actor. Dave released his debut EP Six Paths in 2016 after the release of a number of successful singles including "Thiago Silva".

The song Streatham shows us an insight into his life. This is a song about the artist's life growing up in Streatham and when he moves on to Leicester for University.

This song proves how proud he is to be born and raised where he was. It also tells us how badly behaved he was as a teenager. The Lyrics show how angry he was and the deviant individual he was in his teenage years. This is where he then got caught in some trouble with some money landing him behind bars in Doncaster.

He is Left in August 2019. He is very reflective of his time and has changed his life due to the bad thing he did when he was a teenager. ' Like I'm in Leicester, skippin' my lectures, We used to ride 'round all reckless' These lyrics show where he was at university from him telling us but also saying 'skipping lectures'.

Dave recently won the grammy award for best solo performance with 'Tiago silva' at Glastonbury 2018. While at Glastonbury he said 'I want someone to help me with my famous song 'Tiago silva''. Alex was a 15-year-old boy who was watching Dave and had the lucky unique experience of coming on the stage to sing with Dave. When on stage Dave started to try and calm Alex ready for the song.

'Honestly I don't even belong in the jungle it's mad out here'

Dave kept backing him telling him how good he will do and when Alex started the whole of Glastonbury was shocked. Alex was insane, it was if he had practised his whole life just to sing that one song with Dave.

After the end of the song, Dave took Alex backstage to show him the life of the star he really is. Alex proceeded to take shoots with boohoo man. Within minutes, Alex was an internet sensation. This shows how kind and caring Dave is and it shows although his genre of music is supposed to be bad and proud he actually cares about his fans and he loves to give them opportunities to change their lives.

My personal opinion on this is, watching Dave take a fan onstage to let them experience what it feels like to be a star then the outcome was fitting winning the award for his hard work, one of my favourites.

Dave has recently won the award at the Grammys 2019. He has said a new album will be released soon to celebrate the award! So with this next album with some fire new songs, I think he will probably be up for earning album of the year. He really has been working well. He's made a name for himself at the end of the day, in all the right colours. He's done all the right things to get him to where he is now, all well deserved.

With the new album in mind, I think he will have some really personal names for the new songs, as most of his songs have some reference in the name to something in his personal life. If not it might make a reference to the university he studied at or someplace he has lived at some point in his life which has probably impacted him in a way which he feels he can express his feelings. So we now look further on to wait for a release date to be set!
