'Right Here, Right Now'

If you are looking for those high energy synths, blood rushing buildups and brain smashing breakdowns then Jelly Baby is the one for you.

Jelly Baby has single-handedly paved his career from creating beats in his bedroom to performing at some of the worlds biggest venues. Jelly Baby has effortlessly created a large fan base worldwide due to the music that he performs around the globe.

His live shows are undoubtedly not to be missed due to the energetic atmosphere created by Jelly Baby in some of the worlds best venues that can't be replicated by any other artist in the world.

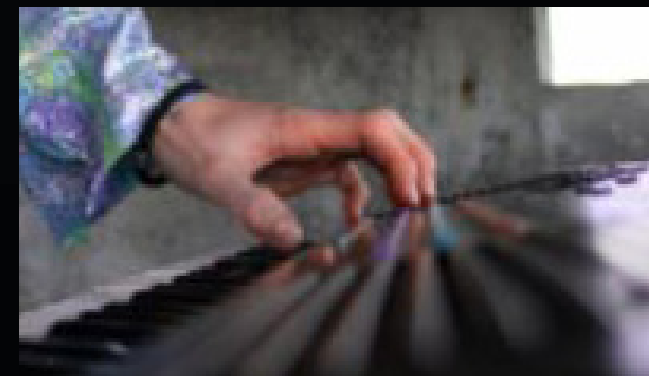

When we met up with him before he boarded his flight to Cafe DEL Mare in Ibiza late this September, he exclusively revealed to us that he would soon be in fans living rooms due to a live-streamed concert. You will be able to see Jelly Baby perform and mash up some of the biggest and best EDM songs in history (more details to be released in next months edition of Electro).

However, if you would like to see Jelly Baby live then you can see him perform next year at a range of events such as Tomorrowland, Creamfields, Abroadfest, Glastonbury, just to name a few.

His whole performance calendar can be found on his website when searching Jellybabymusic.com, so book your tickets 'RIGHT HERE RIGHT NOW' before they go.

His previous major performances can also be re-watched on his youtube channel that features his most major sets that he has performed around the world. (Continued on page 32)
