Group Agreement

This course work carries 25% of your A Level in Media Studies. Everyone has got a big stake in the success of the production! If the group works, the outcomes are more likely to work.

Discuss the following and agree on how to share the workload and make sure everyone gets an equal opportunity to participate and learn.

Please submit a group agreement on each of these items, print it, sign it and hand it to your teacher. This document should also be linked to your perfect production group post.

What Strengths and Weaknesses do you have as a group?
Kai Correia	Strengths - Familiar with camera work
	Weaknesses - acting and being lazy
Josh Streeting	Strengths - editing
	Weaknesses - filming
Jess Knights	Strengths - being dramatic and organisation
	Weaknesses - editing
Scheduling (Test) Shoots Out of School	We are able to commit provisionally to the following shooting schedule Monday after school Sunday afternoons?
Roles and Responsibilities on Shoot	Whilst we are all equally responsible for the quality of footage, we think that the best way to share the roles on shoot is Kai- filmer Josh- actor Jess- organiser of shoot and bringing required equipment
Roles and Responsibilities in Post Production	Whilst we are all responsible for post production, we think that the best way to share the editing workload is Edit it together but josh will be directing the edit
Creative Responsibility & Disagreements	We understand that we are all equally responsible for creative outcomes, when there is a disagreement we will Overcome and be adults about the situation
Working on Shared Documents	Many planning documents must be prepared as a group as they reflect a shared vision and shared practical planning.

Advanced Portfolio (Component 3)

Group Agreement

	We will ensure that the workload is equally shared by talents and preferred areas of the project
Communication and Organisation	The ways in which we will share ideas, resources and project documents is google documents but doing reflections separately to avoid plagiarism
What can you do if you feel unhappy within the group?	There might be times when you feel excluded from the production. Alternatively, you may also feel as though someone is not working as hard as you, for our group we will settle our difficulties by being honest with each other and sharing the workload equally
