Grace is a newly emerging singer in the pop industry. grace’s rollercoaster ride to fame has been quite a journey and it shows how an ordinary girl just like you can hit the top charts one day and be a role model just like her.

Gracie king is a 24 year old who has had a passion for music from a very young age. her mother ruby king says from the age of 5 she was always singing around the house although her three older brothers were constantly telling her to be quiet. however, her life changed dramatically in 2016, when gracie decided to write her own song about a break - up she had previously experienced in high school. this song was then recorded and posted on youtube and overnight this video had reached 5.5 million views. this is how her journey began, top producers all over the world had heard gracie’s voice and got in touch with her. little did she know this was only the beginning for this 19 year old girl. now her songs are hitting the top of the charts with her first very own album being released january 4th.

we met in her studio apartment in new york as i had recently found out she had purchased another house out here, away from her family home in the uk.

She was living with her friend belle g, another newly emerging singer in the pop industry, gracie looked the epitome of style, arriving at the studio in a light brown gucci jacket, hair slick back into a bun and leather loose trousers. she really did look like a pop star. her sweet, welcoming voice really did give me the impression that she’s so grateful to be where she is right now. In response to asking her how her life had changed since entering the top of the pops, she laughed a bit and began to speak

“ The whole journey so far has been a whirlwind and like I’m living a dream really. It just hasn’t hit home yet that this is actually happening to me right now, my life at the moment consists of interviews, meet and greets, concerts, TV appearances all the things I dreamed about doing as a little girl and when I’m not doing these things I’m answering emails and updating my social media pages for you guys. My fans' responses have blown me away - they really have.
